

OUTBURSTS OF EVERETT TRUE

To save locomotive enginemen in wrecks a Texan has invented apparatus that, when a lever is pulled, drops them into heavy steel caissons, at the same time shutting off steam and applying brakes.

The name of Cossmin Icien of New Bedford, Mass., may be counted among our "tongue twisters." However, try this one: "Swan swam over the sea; swim, swan, swim; swan swam back again; well swam swan."
